1. Introduction:

Educational tours play a significant role in enhancing students' understanding by allowing them to observe real-life experiences beyond classroom walls. To support our curriculum in social studies, Geography, environmental science and cultural studies, our school organized a seven day educational excursion to the western part of Nepal. This region is known for its rich cultural heritage, natural beauty, bio diversity and historical importance. The purpose of the tour was to help students explore geographical landscapes, understand cultural diversity, study historical sites, observe wildlife conservation efforts and develop interpersonal leadership and research skills. The trip really enriched participants' knowledge about the western region and central region's socio-economic activities and environmental significance.

3. Detailed Description of places visited with photos

Ligligkot Bandipur:

Ligligkot is a historic hilltop fort in Gorkha District, Famous for its role in the formation of modern Nepal. From there we viewed panoramic mountains, Rainas valley, some stone-written inscriptions about historical shah dynasty.

Bandipur Tanahun

Bandipur is a beautiful Newari hilltop town known for its preserved traditional architecture peaceful atmosphere and stunning Himalayan views. It sits on a ridge between Kathmandu and Pokhara. It is a short getaway. There we saw Bandipur Bazaar, Tundikhel viewpoint, siddha cave etc.

Pokhara: The tourism capital of Nepal.

Pokhara is famous for its seven lakes, caves and stunning Himalayan backdrop. After getting up early in the morning, we enjoyed a peaceful walk around Phewa lake, observing the reflections of surrounding hills, along with machhapuchhre peak.

On the second day we visited major educational sites:

International Mountain Museum:

The Museum provided detailed information about mountaineering history, famous climbers himalalay geology and the cultural of mountain communities such as Sherpa, Gurung and Thakali. Interactive displays and documentaries were helpful for our learning.

David falls, Mahendra cave and Bat cave

These natural wonders helped us understand the underground water systems and rock formations. The roaring sound of David falls and the limestone structures inside the cave made the experience thrilling.

Third Day: Walling Tour-Boating, hydro power visit

Walling in Syangja district is a growing adventure and eco-tourism destination. This area is known for peaceful riverside atmosphere, hydropower station (Andhikhola and Seti projects). In the Dam, we enjoyed boating, observed viewpoints, and local culture. We visited hydro power center, Nepal's older project, Run-of-the-river system, we observed turbines, penstock and plant operation.

Places visited in and around Butwal we visited Siddhababa temple located on Butwal Palpa Highway, which is the major pilgrimage site. We observed religious practices, cultural beliefs, importance of spirituality etc.

Manimukunda Park

We visited Manimukunda Park (Fulbari) which is historically connected with king Manimukunda Sen of the Palpa Kingdom. The beautifully preserved garden, ponds, Zoo with rare animals and birds resting areas provided us a calm environment.

Butwal Industrial Area/ Butwal Bazaar

One of the most educational parts of our tour was the field observation of the Butwal Industrial Area. We learned how small and medium scales-industries contribute to the local economy. Several manufacturing units like metal workshops, furniture factories, and food processing industries showed us the process of production, packaging and distribution. This helped us to understand Nepal's industrial development and employment generation.

Butwal Bazaar is the main commercial hub of Butwal. The busy streets, shops, hotels, and bus station showed us how trade and transportation function in the region. We observed market patterns, business activities, mobility of people, urban lifestyle etc.

4th Day: Places visited in Lumbini

Lumbini is the birth-place of Lord Buddha, is a sacred UNESCO world Heritage site, Symbolizing peace and spiritual heritage. It features the Maya Devi Temple, ancient ruins, seven monasteries and the eternal flame pilgrims and travelers visit to reflect, mediate and experience Nepal's cultural and historical significance for deeper global understanding.

Maya Devi Temple (Birthplace of Lord Buddha)

Our tour began at the Maya Devi Temple, the sacred site where queen Maya Devi gave birth Siddhartha Gautama in 563 BCF. Inside the temple, we saw market stone, which pinpoints the exact birthplace of Buddha. The temple also houses ancient brick structures dating back to the 3rd century BCE. From there we learned, life of Buddha, archaeological excavations, historic evidence of Lumbini to emperor Ashoka, early civilization of Lord Buddha.

Ashoka Pillar:

Just outside the Maya Devi Temple, we observed the Ashoka pillar which was established by the emperor Ashoka during his pilgrimage to Lumbini in 249 BCE. The inscription on the pillar confirms that Buddha was born in Lumbini, Ashoka's role in promoting Buddhism, ancient inscription and its importance and historical significance of Lumbini as well. International monastic Zone, sacred Garden, world peace pagoda, Lumbini museum and Eternal peace flame were the main attractions of our visit in Lumbini.

5th Day: Bhairahawa, Sunauli, bazaar, Trebeni dham, Gandak Barrage tour

Bhairahawa is a vibrant gateway city to Lumbini, rich with cultural, historical and spiritual attractions. The Trebeni Dham, the confluence of three rivers, one of the busiest and most important international border crossings between Nepal and India. Sunauli Border is one of the important gateway for travelers, pilgrims and trade. Gandak Barrage is a massive water-regulating structure built across the Narayani River near the Nepal-India border. Its main purpose is to play role in irrigation, flood control, and water management for both countries, for visitors Gandak Barrage offers a combination of engineering significance, scenic beauty and authentic glimpse of daily river life.

6th Day: CG Shashwat Dham is a religious site

CG mahal is a religious and spiritual complex built by Chaudhary Group located in Devchuli Municipality, Nawalparasi today known as Nawalpur district. Shiva temple is its main attraction. It is one of the Yoga center. It has a religious museum, lake and famous for wildlife. It is the most see destination for visitors and researchers.

London Bridge Mahotsab:

London bridge mahotsav is a large scale fair festival in Chitwan organized along the bank of Narayani River at Narayangadh. The festival aims of promote trade, industry, agriculture, handicrafts, tourism through hundreds of stalls and exhibitions covering agriculture, handicraft, auto, health, education small / medium industries and many more.
